RESEARCHING IN MARYLAND - ANNAPOLIS

For most members a research trip to Maryland probably means a trip to the Hall of Records in Annapolis, and then possible further trips to the research facilities in Baltimore, or the various county seats. Unknown to many is the fact that the Hall of Records is not the only research facility in Annapolis of value for genealogical research. Knowing this might possibly save you the time and expense of traveling elsewhere in MD.

If you're planning a research trip to the Hall of Records in Annapolis, depending upon your research needs, also consider a visit to the Maryland State Law Library, Courts of Appeal Building, 361 Rowe Boulevard, Annapolis, MD, 21401(301-269-3395). Their hours are 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday - Wednesday & Friday. Thursday hours are 8:30 a.m. - 9:00 p.m. and Saturday hours are 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. While not a lending institution, you can borrow most of their materials through your local library by interlibrary loan for 2-4 weeks, depending on the materials loaned. They also do minimal research for mail queries for specific names(family or individual). There are four microfilm readers(one a printer) and a xerox machine available for use. They also maintain a list of names and addresses of researchers available for out-of-state queries for research assistance. Shirley A.(Mrs. Paul H.) Rittenhouse is Head Librarian.

A copy of the "Genealogical Holdings of the Maryland State Law Library"(22pp.) is available from the above address for $2.00. In leafing thru this publication we were quite surprised at the amount of genealogical materials this library has in its' possession(particularly since its' a "law" library). They have the 1776 Census(MD) and 1790 Heads of Families in book form and the Maryland Census(Population) Schedules for 1800-1900 on microfilm. There are also indexes for the 1800-1850 Census Records in book form. They have most printed materials of a general nature you would want to check thru for MD, plus many MD county and local histories, and a good beginning collection of family histories. In addition, they have assorted genealogical materials pertaining to PA, WV, DE, GA, MA, CT, RI, NY, and NJ.

Thus, might we suggest - research in Annapolis should not only mean the Hall of Records, but also the Maryland State Law Library.
