HIVELY'S GENEALOGICAL NOTES

The Pennsylvania German Society has moved its headquarters to the Daniel Boone Homestead which is located just north of Route 422 between Reading and Pottstown in Berks County, PA. The new address is P. O. Box 397, Birdsboro, PA 19508.

A Guide to Carroll County Genealogical Research is scheduled to be published this fall by the Carroll County Genealogical Society, Publication Committee, 50 East Main St., Westminster, MD 21157. Cost, including tax and postage, is $8.00 if ordered before Nov. 1 and $9.00 if ordered after Oct. 31. The publication includes Chapters on the background of the county, resources for genealogical research, towns of the county, newspapers, and cartography. Perhaps of most interest are the articles on the early churches (locations, when established, availability of records) and cemeteries (with a location map and transcription status).

John W. Heisey (SCPGS member of York, PA) has written for several years articles on genealogy which appear in The Tri-State Trader. Some 98 of these articles have been edited, retyped, and bound in book form with the title "Genealogy" Helps, Hints, & Hope and may be purchased for $12.50 from "Ye Olde Genealogie Shoppe" (P. O. Box 39128, Indianapolis, IN 46239).

Some researchers may find interesting the book Carolina Cradle Settlement of the Northwest Carolina Frontier 1747-1762 by Robert W. Ramsey (1964, The University of North Carolina Press). "The main purpose ... is to study in depth the settlement of one segment of the North Carolina frontier--that portion of eighteenth-century Rowan County that lay between the Yadkin and Catawba rivers--by tracing the movements of the settlers and their families". Mr. Ramsey "followed many settlers from the time they stepped onto American shores (perhaps in Philadelphia or Baltimore) through their first years in Pennsylvania or New Jersey or Maryland to their final settlement--or that of their descendents--on the northwest Carolina frontier". The book contains numerous references to specific individuals and families originally in Lancaster and Chester Counties, PA, for whom the author had evidence they moved into the Carolina area he studied. People not interested in the North Carolina area may still find the book of value because of the extensive twenty page bibliography of primary and second sources. Numerous Lancaster County and other PA sources are cited. Please note that the University of North Carolina Press reports that the book is not now available. However many libraries should have a copy for researchers' use.

Hottel-Keller Memorial, Inc. (P. O. Box 33, Toms Brook, VA 22660) is an organization of descendants of John Hottel, immigrant of 1732, whose will was written in Shenandoah County, VA in 1760. This group is interested in having information on descendants of John Hottel's two children (John and Henry) "who remained in PA".

A Description of the Country Virginia's Cartographers and Their Maps 1607-1881 by E. M. Sanchez-Saavedra (Virginia State Library, 1975) with its accompanying ten facsimile maps is interesting and informative reading. (Portions of PA are on some of the maps.) Since I bought my set at a conference book display, I have no particulars concerning its availability and cost by mail order. Similar projects by other states would certainly be worthwhile to historians and genealogists.
